EXPLANATORY

In the statistical tables cents have been omitted, though they were counted in the additions. The figures in all of the tables were put through an adding machine and ought to be correct.

The picture of the Conference group was too pale for a good half-tone plate, so the engraver said.

The price of the Annual remains at 25 cents. Let each preacher sell the copies sent him and order more. Remittances should be promptly sent to the CHATTANOOGA SAVINGS BANK, with plain directions as to what it is for, name of charge, etc.

JAMES A. BURROW.

This department has work in China, Korea, Brazil, Mexico, and Cuba. There are 124 missionaries in these fields, assisted by 342 native helpers and Bible women. Missionaries accepted during the quadrennium:

	China	Korea	Brazil	Mexico	Cuba	Total	Salaries	Outfit and Travel
1910.....	4	2	2	3	..	11	$ 8,550	$ 4,400

	19	14	14	11	1	59	$46,350	$24,600

Total salaries and outfit, $70,950.

The Woman's Work of the Home Department has every reason to rejoice in the progress of the past four years. There has been gratifying gain in membership, and when we recall that the union of the two bodies with such different methods of work was effected in the quadrennium, which entailed some confusion, we are indeed grateful to be able to report even financial gain.

This department is now represented by:

	Number.	Members.
Adult Auxiliaries.....	3,678	89,082
Young People's Auxiliaries.....	888	14,949
Junior Auxiliaries.....	1,461	35,067
Total	6,027	139,098

This makes a gain of 2,078 auxiliaries and 44,076 members. The gain has been among young people and children, though there are 17,013 more adults than were listed in 1910.

COLLECTIONS.

The total collections in this department for connectional work were as follows:

	Cash Remittances	Remitted by Voucher for City Missions	Total
1910-11.....	$152,209.39	$ 54,303.06	$205,512.45

	$673,736.33	$230,428.03	$902,963.86

This shows a gain of $280,683.45 over the reports for the quadrennium ending 1910. The auxiliaries have expended $1,387,124.65 for local Church work.

CONFERENCE REPORTS.

HOLSTON HISTORY.

I have been as busy during the past year as my health would permit. I have been collecting material for a continuance of the history by the Historical Society, whenever it shall see cause to resume it. I have material enough, some assorted and some unassorted, for a sixth volume, which would literally bring the history to the present date. By correspondence I have been manipulating the sale of the volumes already published and collecting accounts.

During the year I have paid Smith & Lamar $500, leaving a balance in their favor of $1,399.60. Part of this balance is for 503 copies of Vol. V. of Holston Methodism, a second edition issued during the year. To pay this balance we have accounts against preachers and others amounting to $616.67; also books in stock, 1,331, which, if sold at jobbers' rates and paid for, would be worth $1,131.35. Our assets may, therefore, be put down at $1,748.02; balance in our favor, $349.42. But the figures against us are certain figures, and those in our favor are more or less uncertain. After frequent and urgent statements, I have collected on accounts during the year $202.45, leaving the balance due as stated above.

I thought it best not to attempt to attend the District Conferences during the year, but I was represented at them by Dr. Perry and others, who procured a number of small orders only. The smallness of these orders grew partly out of the fact that considerable shipments of both Vols. IV. and V. were made to the preachers last year, and they claimed that those had not all been disposed of. Yet the smallness of these orders is a discouraging omen. Does it mean that the preachers are tired of selling the books, and are determined to drop the enterprise? Since we have at considerable cost electrotyped the work, and since our people are by no means generally supplied, it is to be hoped that the question is to be answered in the negative.

Of the five volumes there have been published 10,000 copies (in round numbers), or an average of 2,000 copies to the volume. In a membership of nearly 80,000, as reported at the last Conference, 10,000 copies is only one copy to every eight members, or a full set to every forty members. This ratio is distressingly great. I am sure that this state of affairs ought to be remedied. It seems to me that measures should be taken to place a full set of the histories in every Methodist family as well as in many non-Methodist families. This, I believe, would conduce to the popularity of Methodism and to the increase of the piety of its membership, not because of any skill, ability or piety in the author, but because of the richness in incident of the material and the brilliance in talents and accomplishments together with the profound spirituality and joyful experience of many of the men and women sketched in the volumes. If a plan for the accomplishment of this desirable result can be suggested and adopted, I am willing to do my part in working it.

There has been less complaining of my work as an author than I had expected or deserved; but many may have thought that the story of Holston should have been condensed into one or two volumes. But this could not have been done without the mere categorical mention of many excellent men and women, and the total exclusion of many important incidents. Descending in many cases to particulars has rendered the page more lifelike than would have been done by a dry schedule of names and events. Drs. McFerrin and Redford wrote the histories of the Tennessee and Kentucky Conferences, respectively. These histories embraced about the same period as the Holston history as far as they went, and each author wrote three volumes of about the same size as the Holston volumes. McFerrin's work came down to 1840, and Redford's to 1832. My work, comprehending five volumes, comes to 1897. Reckoning each history really to begin in 1783, McFerrin covers fifty-seven years and Redford forty-nine—nineteen years to the volume for McFerrin and sixteen and one-third to the volume for Redford. Reckoning the Holston history to begin at the same time, it covers a period of 114 years, or nearly twenty-three years to the volume. So it will be seen that the Holston volumes have been decidedly more terse and economical of space than the Tennessee or Kentucky volumes. Besides, no such interest and importance attach to the introduction and perpetuation of Methodism in any other section of the Union as attach to its beginning and progress in Holston. Here it contended with impassable mountains and pathless wilds, grappled with savage beasts and more savage Indians to a degree experienced in no other section. Here it was more torn and rent by political divisions and animosities, lawless bushwhacking, robbing and killing, family and neighborhood feuds and estrangements, church disruptions and ecclesiastical plunderings during and after the Civil War than in any other section.

If our history, because of its local and personal interest, has inspired or shall inspire the reading spirit where it was or is deficient, or if it has excluded to any extent the cheap and sensational trash of the popular novel, it will have accomplished enough good to justify all the outlay of literary work, mechanical labor, canvassing activity and financial cost, that have been involved in its publication.

John Wesley, that mighty seer, whose mental grasp took in the past with its lessons and the future with its possibilities, was fully alive to the power of the press. Hence he said "spread the books." He was himself a writer of books and tracts on a variety of topics; and during his life he took in as the result of the sale of his writings $200,000. The press is more and more becoming the chief factor in molding the opinions and directing the actions of mankind. If you will tell me what people read, I will tell you what they believe and what they are. If I had the power to put Roman Catholic literature exclusively into the hands of the American people for a hundred years, I would show you a nation solidly Catholic. If I could put infidel literature into the hands of the same people for a hundred years, or less time, I would show you a people solidly infidel with Christian churches converted into theaters, the Ten Commandments repealed, and the Christian Sabbath only a holiday.

The Methodist Church in all its branches is perhaps the richest, most influential and most spiritual church in the nation; but it can only hold its lofty position by the diligent circulation of religious literature in the form of Methodist books and tracts, reviews, magazines and newspapers. Stop the Methodist press for a century and Methodism would be "numbered among the things that were before the flood"—a mere memory buried with the dead past.

And what more powerfully influences the opinions of men than history, which is only "philosophy teaching by examples"?

In circulating the modest volumes of Holston Methodism, brethren, you are not simply putting a few shekels into the pockets of the author and the agents who manufacture and sell it, but you are aiding in perpetuating the primacy already attained by Southern Methodism amid the lofty heights, beautiful hills and picturesque vales of this "Switzerland of America" from New River to Chattanooga and from the Kentucky line to the Blue Ridge, and in helping to preserve this primacy you are helping to promote the cause to which you were called by the head of the Church, namely, the rescue of the perishing and the edification of believers. No man can read a true and faithful Methodist history without becoming a better and more useful man, more thoroughly rooted and grounded in the love of God and more sure of a crown and a harp at the right hand of God.

The preachers who have bought and sold the volumes of Holston Methodism have not served God for naught. I have allowed them 32 per cent. of the retail price, which, if they had handled the 10,000 volumes, would amount to $4,000; but this compensation to agents is not worthy to be compared with the intellectual and spiritual good that the history is intended to do. But even financially the work of selling the books will pay liberally; the reading of Methodist history will engender loyalty to the Church, increased attendance upon its ordinances, greater liberality in support of its institutions and in the end more liberal pastoral salaries.

I beg leave again to remind the brethren that this is a Conference, not an individual, enterprise. As an individual enterprise it could not have been otherwise than a disastrous failure. Our field is too circumscribed, and even in the bounds of the Conference our constituency is too partial to allow of a large sale of the volumes of the history, whatever may be its merits, without great and general effort. If we had published it and depended upon simply advertising it, it would have been stillborn. Everything depends on drumming. Indeed ministers of the gospel are nothing but drummers sent forth to drum men into the Kingdom. The preachers in their pastoral rounds must carry the books to the families and personally press them upon their consideration. You would do well so far as the written history is concerned to make the most of it; for it is not likely that it will be rewritten in the next hundred years.

I have been gratified with the favor with which the preachers and people of the Holston Conference and elsewhere have received the volumes as they came from the press; all the comments which I have heard or heard of, and all the written or published notices which I have read have been eulogistic, except one discordant from a distance, which pronounces the fifth volume "a disappointment," averring that "the edge of my splendid genius is dulled by age and infirmity," and that I have not dealt justly with those with whom I came in collision in early life. I am glad to say that the universal verdict, with this single exception, is the contrary of this opinion. I plead guilty to the soft impeachment of writing kindly of those whom I have loved as intimated in the unfavorable criticism to which I refer; but my conscience is clear of having set down aught in malice toward those with whom I have come in collision in the past, or of treating them with intentional neglect. Bishop Waterhouse, in his introduction to the fifth volume, speaks of my "spirit of fairness;" Dr. Schuler, editor of the Midland Methodist, says that I have written "without giving my views, feelings and prejudices;" referring to the unfavorable comment mentioned above, Dr. John H. Brunner, now in heaven, wrote me: "I have not detected any unfairness or injustice in your treatment of the brethren." Bishop Hoss, referring to the same unfavorable criticism, wrote me: "As far as the particular Vol. V. is concerned, I think I told you that I thought it to be the best and most interesting of the five. If it showed any slightest diminution of intellectual vigor on your part, I am utterly unable to see it." These are only a few notices among a considerable number of the same kind.

There were some important omissions in Vol. V. that no one regrets more than I. A number of our best men were cut off from the Holston Conference in the setting off of the Western North Carolina Conference in 1890, and most of these failed on that account to receive biographical mention in Vol. V.—men such as W. W. Bays, G. C. Rankin and James H. Weaver. When I discovered the omissions I would have made the amende honorable, but enough had been written to make a large volume and they were laid over for a future volume.

A regret has been expressed that Vol. V. does not contain a biographical notice of Bishop Hoss; but my plan, which I have departed from only occasionally, has been to reserve biographical notices till the location, the transfer to foreign missions or to other Conferences, or death of the men. My story of Holson ends in 1897, and Bishop Hoss was not promoted to the episcopacy till 1902. I have been collecting material relating to him, and would rejoice in the privilege of writing up this many-sided man, this Admirable Crichton of Southern Methodism—scholar, teacher, preacher, editor, bishop and loving, affable Christian gentleman.

Pardon me for adding that through life I have courted poverty and won it; sought pardon and peace and found them. Amid much unfaithfulness and many backslidings, I have enjoyed many refreshings from the presence of the Lord, yea, many deep, joyful experiences, which the world knows not of; and through the atoning blood of the Lord Jesus Christ I hope by and by to join my brethren and friends that have gone before in a world of happiness, activity and progress. "Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand."

B

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

The Church at large has had faithful warning against the danger of secularized institutions of learning and a godless education. The vital necessity of counter activity on the part of loyal churchmen has been strenuously emphasized. Southern Methodism has just emerged from a mighty struggle for possession of Vanderbilt University; millions of dollars are in demand for Atlanta and Dallas; the rights of the Church in our various colleges are the subject of rigorous investigation. In the sphere of "higher education" there is no lack of interest or of the activity of financial agencies in that behalf.

But what of the elementary instruction in which all higher education is rooted? Plainly, the Protestant Church has surrendered that vast realm to state control. The Roman Catholic Church is still stubbornly contesting the claims of the state to the care of her children. The reason is clear and, from her viewpoint, entirely valid.

The activity of the state in perfecting its educational system and methods is in evidence from Maine to Texas and from Hatteras to the Golden Gate. Under this system the state assumes control of our children thirty hours of each week, and in many commonwealths attendance is compulsory, while the teaching of religion is strictly forbidden—even the reading of the Bible in the hearing of pupils being prohibited.

Now here is a most significant fact strangely ignored; namely, that the only specific agency remaining under control of the Church for the systematic education of children and youth in morals and religion is the Sunday School. Granting all that may be legitimately claimed for the Epworth League—thwarted of its noble objective solely through lack of efficient local leadership and of the pulpit—which often disqualifies itself by its choice of obscure themes and university methods in the presentation of them, the fact remains that the vast majority of the young people of our day are dependent on the Sunday School for a religious education. When we consider the isolation of its units, the deficiency of its equipment, its unpaid, untrained officers and teachers, its voluntary and oftentimes desultory attendance, and then remember that its marvelous achievements are the result of a weekly gathering of one hour—only half of this, or less, being devoted to instruction—we cannot escape the conviction that God is its founder and patron; that its title and trusteeship is clearly in the Church, and that with teachers by the hundreds of thousands and with many millions of students, the Sunday School as a power which makes for righteousness, is more indispensably necessary to the Church than its colleges and universities. Let those who doubt or deny this statement put it to this extreme test: if the Church were forced to choose between closing its Sunday School or its colleges and universities, which could it better afford to surrender?

That the Kingdom of God cometh without observation, the growth of the Sunday School conclusively proves. For long it was accorded scant courtesy in ecclesiastical sanhedrims. An epoch was recorded in the acts of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the year of our Lord 1914, when, for the first time, its Sunday School received recognition in anything like approximately adequate legislation. Up to that time its constituency of over a million and a half of souls masqueraded in our discipline under a little hotch-potch section of thirteen paragraphs. Contrast, in passing, the voluminous laws of the state in support of a school system, often characterized as "secular and godless."

At last this greatest of all our Church schools is accorded a whole chapter in five sections and thirty orderly paragraphs—which, by the way, must be regarded as only a hopeful sign of better things to come. As an incitement to a careful study of this advanced legislation a brief resume is presented.

In Section 1 we find the General Board increased from six to twenty-six members—its chairman a bishop—with provision for further additions. Thus the board becomes fairly representative of a great Church with powers enlarged and clearly defined.

In Section 2 the Conference Board emerges from the primordial formless fog clothed with powers which suffice to cover its previous condition of extreme nakedness. Its orbit is assigned and erraticism of movement from centrifugal force carefully counterbalanced by centripetal checks.

Section 3 provides for organization and management of the local school after a more thorough fashion than heretofore prevailing. Pastors who have been depending on the school to tide them over the assessment shoals will find some mighty interesting reading in this section.

Section 6 contains six paragraphs, each opening with these words, "It shall be the duty of the preacher in charge," and is of special significance for any who have generously conceded to the superintendent all of the responsibilities and part of the revenues. Reporting one, or more, school, or schools, "well attended and doing good work" will not hereafter be recognized as either orthodox in principle or safe in practice.

Section 5 consists of three paragraphs, each beginning with this ominous language, "It shall be the duty of the presiding elder." This is something new under the sun.

Enlargement of vision, of hope and of purpose is certified in the Report of the General Board to the Annual Conferences in which (1) a better adjustment of lesson helps, the issue of books treating of religious education, the enlargement of existing periodicals and the launching of new ones is promised; (2) the progress and outlook of teacher training classes—130,000 members—are indicated; (3) employment of field secretaries is provided for; (4) a ten-point revised standard of efficiency is announced.

Our Conference statistics for 1913 gave our Sunday School enrollment as 6,251 in excess of Church members. In this comparison only one Conference in all Southern Methodism—the West Virginia—excelled Holston. With a reported decrease of 2,123 in the school and an increase of 2,742 in the Church for 1914, the school membership is over 1,000 less than that of the Church. While rejoicing in this large addition to the Church—made possible by the unheralded service of its Sunday School workers—we must repudiate the idea that it is easier to get members into the Church than the school. By reasonable diligence we may soon regain the prominence to which our opportunities invitingly point.

Since the functions of this board, as now constituted, cease by statute of limitation with the reading of this report, we do not presume to anticipate, even by suggestion, the policy of our successors. But we venture to urge, as heretofore in various ways, the importance of district organization which the General Board indorses "as furnishing the most effective means for reaching the rank and file of the Church."

In conclusion, we express our heartfelt gratitude to all our brethren who have concurred with us in our sincere efforts for the advancement of the Kingdom of God through Sunday School agencies and our profound regret that much of our labor was lost because of the indifference of some to our most earnest and persistent appeals for help. We congratulate the incoming board on the greatly increased facilities afforded it through progressive legislation for the provision of its work, and bespeak for it such generous co-operation as will assure to its labors the most abundant success.

CARE OF CONFERENCE FUNDS.

Your committee appointed to submit a plan for handling the finances of the Holston Annual Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, recommends that the American Trust and Banking Company, of Chattanooga, Tennessee, be designated as the depository of all the benevolent and trust funds of the various boards of the Conference. All the money coming to the Conference, regardless of the board to whom it finally goes, shall be paid direct to the American Trust and Banking Company, of Chattanooga, Tennessee, as general treasurer. The present rule of the Conference is that all receipts should be paid to the teller. Now the said trust company will act as teller in receiving the funds and be responsible for same.

We recommend that in establishing the office of general treasurer, all present treasurers of the several Conference boards and trustees of Conference funds are instructed to immediately turn over to the American Trust and Banking Company, Chattanooga, Tennessee, all moneys and securities in their hands, as soon as they have been thoroughly audited by a committee of three to be appointed by the presiding bishop, which committee is authorized to secure such aid as may be needed in making the audits. This committee is authorized to act as agents of the Holston Annual Conference in effecting the transfer of said funds and securities, and to make a report to the chairman of each board and the trustees of Conference funds. Any necessary expense incurred by said committee in having an audit made shall be borne by the particular board involved.

The American Trust and Banking Company will recommend investments for any surplus or trust funds under the control of any of the several boards or trustees, such investments to be made by them only upon the written approval of the executive officers of the board or trustees to whom the fund belongs. Statements in detail of all investments made and securities held will be submitted to each session of the Holston Annual Conference or oftener if desired.

When all collections are in at the close of the Conference year, and the general treasurer's books are closed at the Annual Conference, each treasurer of the several boards will be notified of the amount of funds to the credit of such board, which amount shall be subject to check, according to the rules prescribed by each board.

The treasurer of each board will be provided with a check book, the check itself being in such form that it will show plainly what it is issued for.

A statement of each fund will be prepared for the Conference for its Mid-year and Annual Meetings. These statements shall show in a complete, comprehensive and detailed manner the financial affairs of the Conference and each district and charge and fund.

The statement for the Annual Conference will be in such form that it may be printed in the "Annual," relieving the financial secretary of such work.

Statements at frequent and regular intervals will be made to the Presiding Elder of each District, and, when requested, a statement will be sent to any pastor.

Statements of any particular fund or board will be submitted to proper authorities at any time upon request.

The trust company will have at the Annual Conference sufficient responsible clerical force to handle all necessary work.

All the funds required to be remitted to anyone will be remitted promptly, as required by the Conference.

The American Trust and Banking Company will perform all services noted above and any other reasonable services connected with same for the sum of $600 per year, payable quarterly, plus the cost of necessary stationery and postage.

The expense to be divided as follows:

Board of Church extension.....	12 ½ per cent.
Board of education.....	12 ½ per cent.
Joint board of finance.....	25 per cent.

Committee.

The following amendment was adopted:

Resolved, That a commission consisting of F. A. Carter, J. A. Burrow, W. G. M. Thomas, G. L. Hardwick and R. P. Purse be and are hereby appointed to complete all contracts and arrangements with the American Trust and Banking Company, provided they find after investigation that a satisfactory contract can be made, and are satisfied with the institution; but should they find that more satisfactory arrangements can be made with some other bank they are hereby given full power to make such arrangement and contract for the Holston Conference.

ADVANTAGES OF A TRUST COMPANY.

1. Its thorough responsibility. Undertaking the work for pay, it asks no indulgence. Every detail of the work must be punctually, thoroughly and systematically discharged. It expects to be held to strict account.

2. Its thorough and prudent accounting. The church funds pass through bonded hands, under careful eyes. No looseness or carelessness. No delay in making payments and accounting.

3. Its perpetuity. It does not die or fall sick in the middle of its work. When one of its officials is ill or dies, another trained man is in his place. There are no misplaced accounts or account books to be sought for at any time. All are safely kept in the company's fire and burglar-proof vaults. There is no trouble or annoyance in selecting some deceased officer's successor. The successor to every officer of a trust company is already selected and in training, waiting for advancement. Individual treasurers are often sick at Conference time. No one is familiar with their affairs. No one can properly report for them. The trust company will always have an experienced, capable man at Conference to report, suggest and advise concerning every detail of the finances.

4. Its safety. Trust companies have ample capital and surplus to protect patrons from loss. They are frequently and rigidly audited by the state bank examiners. Their officers and employees are under heavy bonds.

5. Its frequent and comprehensive reports. It expects to be asked about the church affairs often—figures the extra work this entails into its compensation and keeps its accounts so methodically that reports can be quickly made.

6. Its co-ordination of Church accounts. You would not have to collect fragments of information from various treasurers. You could write to one office for all the information you want, and get it promptly—compiled so you would comprehend it at a glance.

7. Its capacity to invest. Its loans of surplus funds, made upon a strictly business basis, safeguarded by its wide experience and knowledge of financial affairs, will be safe and sure. It will produce money when it is needed again for Church purposes.

8. Its conformity to rules. It does not expect rules bent or broken to suit its personal or private convenience. It will do what it is told to do and do it promptly.

9. The fact that it is a business institution working for pay. Nobody will hesitate to ask for statements. Nobody will hesitate to ask for prompt, efficient work. Nobody will hesitate to criticise or ask for explanations.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Report No. 1.

Your Board of Education begs leave to submit the following special report:

Upon careful investigation of the title of Centenary College, located at Cleveland, Tennessee, we find that this institution is duly chartered under the general laws of the State of Tennessee and is secured to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, by a deed of transfer which, in our judgment, fully meets the disciplinary requirements of the General Conference.

This deed has been recorded in the register's office of Bradley county, Tennessee, in Deed Book "B," pp. 193, 194, 195.

In view of the title and ownership of the Church in this property, we commend the institution to the patronage of our people and to their liberal support in the campaign now in progress to free it from a burden of debt.

R. K. SUTHERLAND, Vice-President.

E. E. WILEY, Secretary.

Report No. 2.

The work of education within the bounds of the Holston Conference has been carefully looked into by your board, and we find it to be in a healthy, progressive state. All of our schools have opened under favorable conditions, giving promise of a prosperous and successful year.

Hiwassee College, now under the management of Rev. J. E. Lowry, has the largest enrollment in many years. We recommend it to the General Board of Education for classification as a Junior College.

Sullins College, under the management of President W. S. Neighbors, has a large enrollment and is enjoying an era of financial prosperity and growth.

Martha Washington College is now classified as an "A" grade college, and was never, perhaps, in a more prosperous and healthy condition than under the management of President S. D. Long.

Emory and Henry College, standing at the head of our educational work in Holston, is, we feel sure, about to enter upon an era of enlarged usefulness. The new administration building, valued at $65,000, has just been completed, and marks a great advance in material progress and equipment. Another building for use as an astronomical observatory and physical laboratory is in process of construction, and will be ready for use by January 1, 1915. This building will stand as a memorial to Creed Fulton, whose daughters, Mrs. M. F. Preston and Miss Sallie Fulton, have contributed largely to its erection. A central heating and electric light plant is being erected and will be ready for use in a few weeks.

The future for Emory and Henry College is bright with hope. But in order to secure in full the promised contribution of $50,000 from the General Educational Board of New York and the $25,000 from Mr. Carnegie, it is vitally important that all notes and promises now due, or maturing, should be paid in cash at the earliest date possible, certainly not later than the thirtieth day of June, 1915. We urge all our preachers and laymen to note this fact and help the college to make these collections in full.

The student body at Emory and Henry College at this time is large and full of enthusiasm. A goodly company of young men are there preparing for the ministry. It has been, and will be for many years to come, the place to which Holston must look for trained men for the ministry. In this connection we call attention to the fact that the General Board of Education has recommended the establishment of a chair of religious education at Emory and Henry College, by the Board of Education, the Board of Missions and the Sunday School Board of this Conference. Your Board of Education recommends that, if possible, such a chair be established at the beginning of the session of 1915, or as soon thereafter as possible.

Complying with the requirements of the new discipline, E. E. Wiley was elected Conference Secretary of Education for the ensuing quadrennium.

We recommend the confirmation of R. K. Sutherland as a trustee of Emory and Henry College.

We recommend the confirmation of F. A. Carter as a trustee of Centenary College.

We recommend the appointment of Rev. Luther S. Reynolds as a student in our new Theological School at Atlanta.

We recommend the appointment of O. C. Wright, S. H. Austin and Z. V. Randall as students at Emory and Henry College; A. S. Thorn, principal of Montgomery State Normal; F. R. Snively as a student in Hiwassee College; R. P. Carroll, principal of Konna-rock High School, and J. H. Montgomery, principal of Damascus High School.

We call attention to the new education standard for admission on trial as set forth in paragraph 731 of the discipline. We recommend that all candidates for admission on trial, and all members of the various Conference classes, be required to meet the various examining committees on the day preceding the opening of the Annual Conference, prepared to stand a written examination.

A committee consisting of Rev. J. W. Moore, Rev. E. E. Wiley, Mr. George L. Hardwick was appointed to confer with other like committees of the Carolina Conferences in regard to a theological institute at Lake Junaluska or elsewhere.

The educational assessment for the year is $9,717, divided as follows: Bluefield District, $753; Tazewell District, $848; Radford District, $956; Wytheville District, $1,185; Abingdon District, $1,045; Big Stone Gap District, $765; Morristown District, $1,000; Knoxville District, $1,176; Chattanooga District, $1,326; Cleveland District, $663. Total, $9,717.

MORAL AND SOCIAL MOVEMENTS.

The first and paramount work of the Church of God is undoubtedly the calling of sinners to repentance; but second to this, and of extreme importance, is the creation and conservation of the moral, social and economic conditions under which, and in which, converts may live and grow, and all the fruits of the gospel may be conserved. Next of importance to the birth of a lamb in a fold is its preservation from destructive agents and elements, and the furnishing of food and environment necessary to its growth and development.

We put first in our list our most destructive and dangerous foe. Judged by the fruits, the manufacture, sale and use of alcoholic drinks furnish to the Church its greatest enemy. Alcoholic drink is the greatest enemy to the Church itself, in that it produces dissipation, fosters every variety of crime and immorality and paralyzes efforts to save mankind. It is the greatest enemy of the home, in that it creates the largest percentage of divorces, produces widowhood and orphanage, strips the home of every comfort, robs it of every joy, and, worse than all, thrusts out into posterity an idiotic, feeble-minded, epileptic, blind and generally deficient offspring. It is the greatest enemy of the state, in that it corrupts the ballot, subsidizes the makers and executors of law, and creates a debauched and immoral citizenship, who are enemies to good government. It is the greatest enemy to business, in that it diverts money from legitimate businesses, destroys the man, who is the unit of labor, and is the mother of accident, disorder and general lack of efficiency in working classes wherever it touches. The calamitous crime of our civilization has been that this gigantic enemy has been legalized and for many long years actually aided by the government in its nefarious and destructive work.

As past victories are stimulants to future battles, we call your attention, first, to the progress made. We bring you the good tidings that the nations of the world are awaking and are beginning to realize the power of this enemy. The actions of the commanders-in-chief of the great and horrible European war in prohibiting alcoholic drinks, on the ground of efficiency; the action of the generals in Mexico, making it a penalty of death for any man to furnish to a soldier drink, or for any soldier to be found intoxicated, on account of the demoralization and destruction of efficiency in the army; the recent action of Russia, Germany and other nations in the prohibition and limitation of this great evil; the movement in almost every nation of the globe in the past decade, by which in official conduct and statement of governmental leaders, in discussions and declarations from conventions of bodies of highest medical, social and economic authority, and in the enactment of civil laws, by which alcoholic drink has been put under the ban as a common evil—all furnish unmistakable evidence of this awakening. The action in recent years of our own government, first, in the passage of the Webb-Kenyon bill over the president's veto; second, in the passage of the Jones-Works bill, reducing the saloons in the District of Columbia one-half, entirely prohibiting saloons in all residence districts, and prohibiting a saloon within 400 feet of any school or church; third, the measure insuring the continuance of prohibition of the canteen in national and state soldiers' homes; fourth, an appropriation for the enforcement of the anti-liquor laws in Alaska; fifth, a bill defeating the effort to reinstate the beer canteen in the army; sixth, an appropriation to pay the expenses of the delegates to represent the United States in the International Congress against alcoholism, appointed to be held in Milan, Italy, in September, 1913; seventh, the elimination of wine from all official banquets by the Secretary of State; eighth, the recognition of the committee of one thousand citizens, recently gathered at the capital for the purpose of requesting national legislation, and the setting apart in both houses hours for the consideration of the great question they represented. All these, and many other things, coming from the world and our own national capital, are significant of the fact that the traffic is reaching its final doom.

To bring our victories nearer home, we call your attention, first, to recent elections in Virginia and West Virginia, by which these states gave such overwhelming and, to the enemy, unexpected majorities—Virginia giving a majority of 30,000 and West Virginia 92,000; second, the recent local option elections in Kentucky, by which nine out of twelve counties in which elections were held were carried dry, leaving only fourteen counties in the state of 120 counties in which alcoholic liquors can be legally sold; third, to the splendid character of officials and official conduct, by which the prohibition laws in West Virginia have been so enforced as to create such marvelous changes in morals, prison life and industrial conditions as to make that state an actual demonstration by example to every state in the Union of the beneficial effects of state-wide prohibition; fourth, to the improved conditions in Tennessee, under which laws have been more efficiently enforced against the illegal sale of liquor in the hitherto rebellious cities of Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville; fifth, the immense figures sent up from police stations, prisons and court records, showing throughout all the dry states of the South the wonderfully improved conditions in crime and its costs and results, making the whole South a shining example to the nation of the good influences of prohibition; sixth, to the planks in the platforms of both parties in the state, pledging to maintain our present state-wide law and to favor the enactment of such laws as are necessary to make them efficient; seventh, to victories in every state in the Union, by which prohibition territory has been enlarged and saloons eliminated. All these things point with no uncertain finger to the speedy overthrow of this gigantic evil as a legalized enemy in our nation.

We offer another message of good cheer in the recent enactment of laws prohibiting the sale of hurtful drugs, such as opium, absynthe, cocaine and morphine; the state law against cigarettes, and the advanced step of our own Church in its legislation on the general use of tobacco among its ministry; the laws of pure foods and pure medicines; the laws regulating labor, preserving our boys and girls from commercialism and opening up better facilities and opportunities for their education; the laws against the white slave trade and other specific vices, together with the general improved conditions of factories, work shops, tenement houses and city slums, in which better conditions of life are offered to the laboring poor. All these things tell of the success of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and of the fruits of the labors of all those who are apostles of the doctrine, whose fundamental tenet is, "Love the Lord thy God with all thy mind, soul and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself." We urge that our preachers study the social and economic questions so that they may render intelligent and efficient aid, not only in proper legislation, but in general enlightenment of the people.

With this message of cheer, we beg to call your attention further to future work and future dangers. First, to make efficient and successful the excellent laws now upon our statute books, it will be necessary for every Christian minister to advocate from his pulpit and every Christian citizen to urge the necessity of electing such men to our legislative and executive offices as will guarantee to us the maintenance and proper execution of our laws, and if necessary the enactment of such additional laws as will render our present laws efficient.

We recommend most heartily that we continue our support to the Anti-Saloon League, as the non-sectarian and non-partisan agent which has so greatly aided us by organized effort in the work hitherto done, and we recommend that our preachers and laity, especially in Virginia, give their financial support in aiding to reduce the debt recently incurred in the great moral fight in Virginia. We recommend that we continue our co-operation, as heretofore, with the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and such other organizations for benevolent and temperance work as have by their fruits shown themselves worthy.

We recommend most highly the work of our brother, J. D. McAlister, as superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia.

We commend most heartily the work of the ministry of our Church, who fearlessly and unreservedly threw themselves into the fore front of the great battle in Virginia for state-wide prohibition.

As alcoholic liquors have been prohibited in all our territory, we may expect other hurtful drugs, by sinful commercialism, to be offered as a substitute, and the many hurtful drinks and drugs now offered for sale to be offered more abundantly; we urge careful watchfulness and fearless denunciation of all these subterfuges.

We call attention to the exciting to debauchery from music halls, realistic plays, certain kinds of moving picture shows, dance halls and the modern novel—which have recently taken on new and suggestive features. We urge that a strict censorship be demanded of this new and marvelously powerful agent, the "picture show."

As the Methodist Church has from its origin emphasized modesty of apparel, we call attention to the fact that the attire of our women has not, in the memory of men now living, been more immodest and suggestive than now. We call upon our preachers to sound a note of warning to parents. The morality of our race rests upon our women; no nation ever rises higher than its mothers in morality; the morality of woman rests upon the preservation of her modesty.

Last, we beg to sound this note of warning. This is a period in America especially of reform movements and reform propagandists. Reform societies on all subjects are organized and being organized. Reformers, male and female, are peopling the rostrums of our country and seeking our pulpits for every species of propaganda; books, pamphlets and periodicals are being scattered. We urge that the liberality and enthusiasm peculiar to Methodists be not used to draw us into extreme positions and connect us with unwise and fanatical movements, which will impair our usefulness in wise and essential reform movements. We urge upon our preachers the necessity of careful study and intelligent investigation before adopting and endorsing new reform movements.

GEORGE R. STUART, Chairman.

J. M. CROWE, Secretary.

LAY ACTIVITIES.

Your Conference Leader in the Laymen's Missionary Movement begs permission to report in accordance with requirements of the General Conference held last May in Oklahoma City. Mr. B. F. Fritts, of Chattanooga, Tenn., has been elected Conference Lay Leader for the ensuing year. The following is a list of District Lay Leaders as elected at the last District Conference:

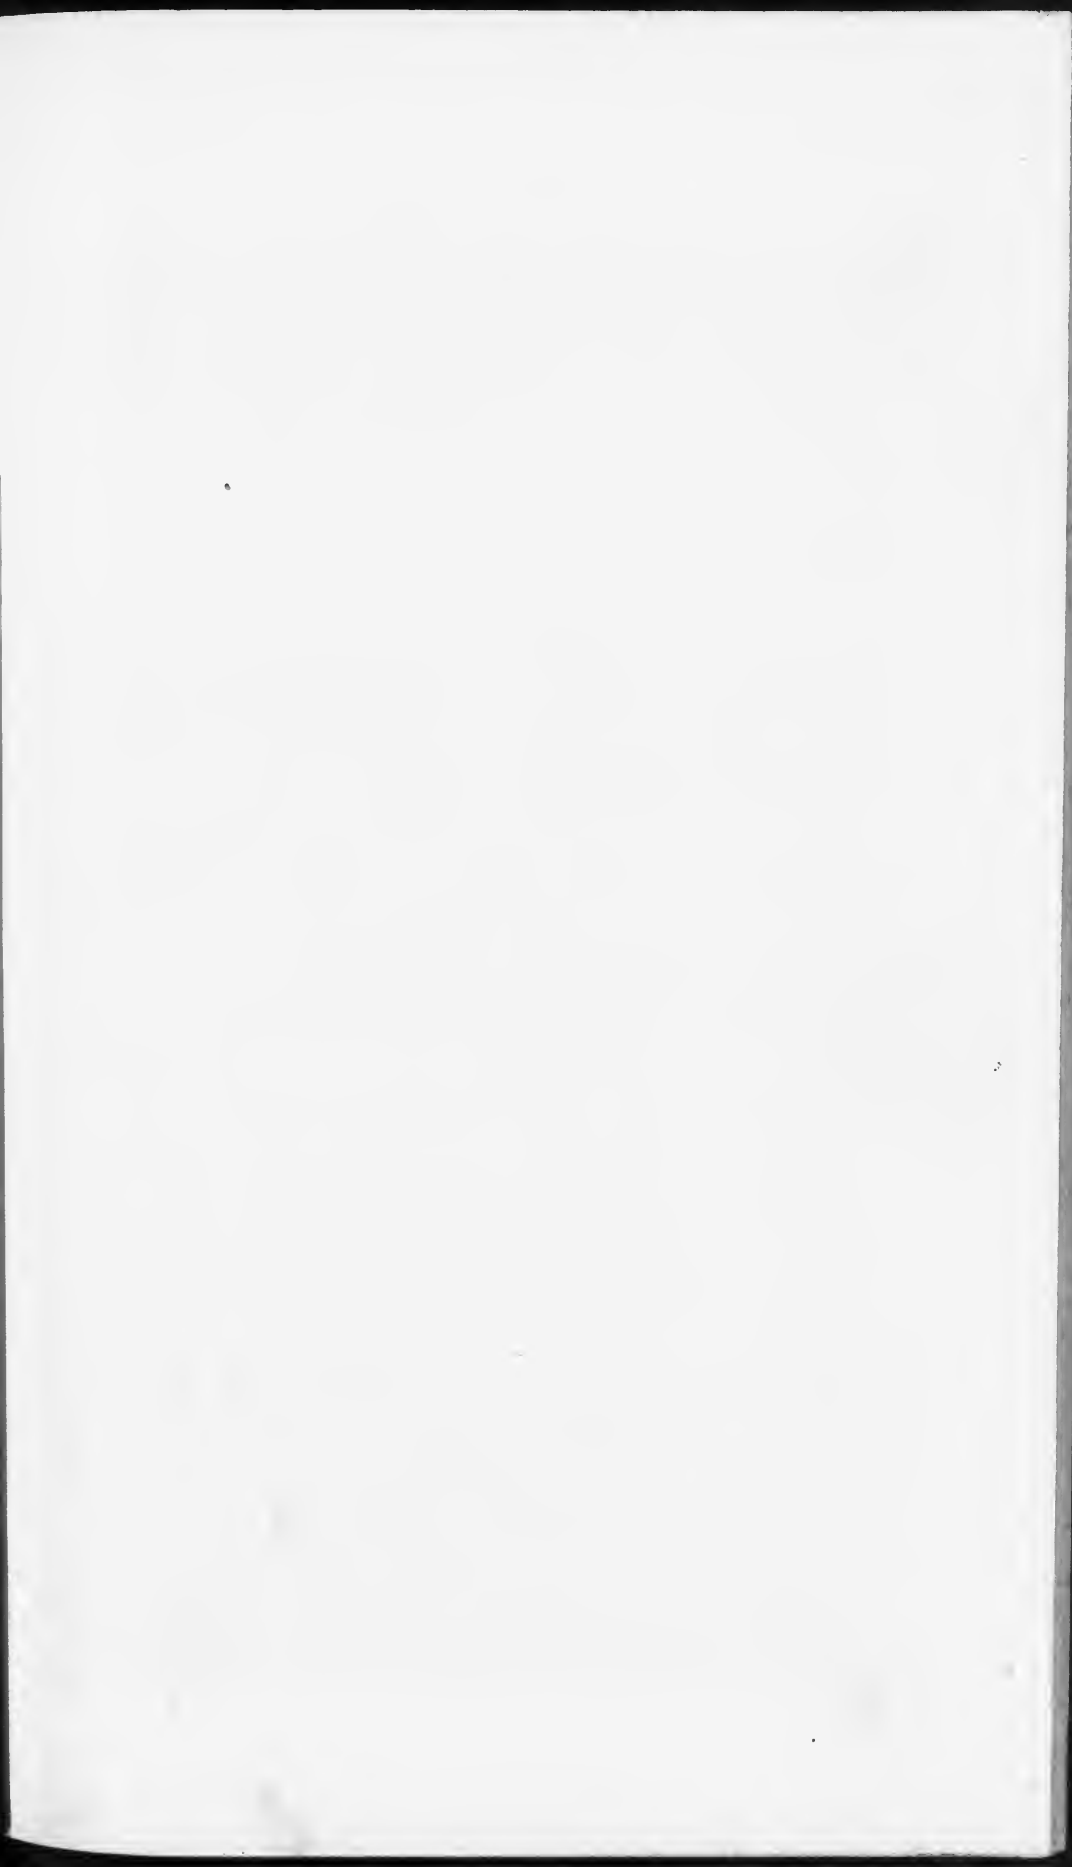

District	Lay Leader	Post Office Address
Bluefield	J. R. Hucherson.....	Bluefield, W. Va.
Tazewell	C. R. Brown.....	Tazewell, Va.
Radford	Geo. B. Halstead.....	Princeton, W. Va.
Wytheville	R. L. Dickenson.....	Rural Home, Va.
Abingdon	J. L. Hardin.....	Emory, Va.
Big Stone Gap....	C. Q. Countz.....	Coeburn, Va.
Morristown	P. M. Bewley.....	Morristown, Tenn.
Knoxville	E. S. Lotspeich.....	Knoxville, Tenn.
Chattanooga	B. F. Fritts.....	Chattanooga, Tenn.
Harriman	L. N. Brown.....	Whitwell, Tenn.

Six of the above members are present at this Conference.

I am pleased to report that the District Lay Leaders desire to work in harmony with the Presiding Elders, giving assistance wherever they can to the best interests of the Conference. There appears to be about 124 churches in the Conference which have active Missionary Committees; from this number thirty-odd have made an every-member canvass, and about 22 are using the duplex envelope, or that form of envelope, for raising benevolences.

It is very gratifying to report that wherever the Church Lay Committees have been properly organized and the "Every-member canvass" taken, and the duplex envelope system used, it has proved successful. In many cases the success was beyond the expectation of those who put it into effect. This plan not only looks after the financial end of the Church, but also brings the officers in direct contact with the entire church membership, getting a true report of the spiritual welfare and condition of each member, which enables the pastor to more effectively do his pastoral work, know his congregation, and where his attention is needed most.

Where the financial plans for Methodists have been put into effect, in a majority of cases we have only praise for its successful working. First, it nearly always raises the needed funds; second, it gives the laymen of the church something to do, bringing them in contact with the church, and develops them as church workers; but the greatest benefit received therefrom is the spiritual uplift,

DISTRICT CONFERENCE RECORDS.

Your Committee on District Conference Records submits the following report:

Nine of the ten district Conference records were presented to the committee for examination.

The Tazewell District record is incomplete in that the supplements are missing, and that the date does not appear at the top of each page. The recorded minutes, while good, show some errors in spelling, and carelessness in punctuation.

The Bluefield record is in good form, but is deficient in arrangement and punctuation. The signatures of the president and secretary do not appear on the record.

The Radford record is splendid in arrangement and good in composition and penmanship.

The Wytheville record is exceptional for its legible and artistic penmanship, and its correct and attractive form.

The Abingdon record is original, but ideal, in its system. However, it shows minor errors in spelling, and a number of typographical errors. The committee commends this excellent typewritten, loose-leaf system, and suggests that other districts consider it with reference to its adoption.

The neatness and correctness of the Big Stone Gap record is marred only by the slight omission of the date from the blank at the top of each page.

With the exception of a few blots, the Morristown record is commendable for neatness and form.

Typographical corrections greatly mar the appearance of the Knoxville record. The system used, the thin, typewritten page, pasted in scrapbook fashion, is far from ideal. It is preferable to have the minutes recorded upon the pages of the book, which can be done by the use of a book machine.

The Harriman record is very good, but abbreviations are used in many places where it would have been better to have written in full. Some blots also detract from its appearance.

Through an oversight, the Chattanooga record was not brought to the seat of the Conference, but upon the statement of Dr. Burrow, the Presiding Elder, it is in excellent condition.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

The legal world boasts of Roman law; but back of the Roman law is the Mosaic law, and in the very heart of the Mosaic law is the law of the Sabbath; and the law of the Sabbath is given almost as much space and emphasis as is devoted to all the other of the Ten Commandments.

In these latter materialistic and entertainment days we frequently hear the Sabbath day referred to as ancient and out of date. If it is, the other nine are out of date; it is no longer wrong to steal and lie and kill; if one of the ten is obsolete, so are the other nine.

We frequently hear people speak of our Lord's words, "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath," as if such words were meant to annul the law of the Sabbath. The Master was striking at the Pharisaic idolatry of the Sabbath—that observance that was taking the very heart out of it; but the Master never meant that the Sabbath had no longer a place among the fundamental laws of life and morals. Water was made for man, and not man for water; but he had better be careful how he deals with it, or he will get drowned. Fire was made for man, and not man for fire; but he had better be careful in its use, or he will get burnt.

As the Holy Sabbath is fundamental to all of our institutions, as attested by revelation and history, therefore your committee would urge:

1. That the preachers preach Sabbath observance to all their congregations.
2. That the Sunday schools teach it to all their classes.
3. That parents bring it before their children.
4. That while we are glad to welcome and encourage every organization looking to the preservation of the Sabbath, let us not forget that the Church of God is its best friend.

W. S. NEIGHBORS, Chairman.

A. B. HUNTER, Secretary.

I

SPIRITUAL STATE OF THE CHURCH.

From the reports made by the Presiding Elders of the several districts of the Conference we feel that there is cause for profound gratitude to God for His manifest presence in the Church during the year that has passed. Almost all of the charges in the Conference have been blessed with gracious revivals, some of which have been accompanied with great power, resulting in deep conviction and salvation for many sinners. The backsliders have been reclaimed, the Church encouraged and strengthened. We are glad to note that many of these revivals have been conducted by the pastors. These reports show that there have been more than 12,500 conversions, and about 8,000 accessions to the Church. Surely the Lord has been with His people.

We believe these glorious results have come in answer to much prayer. But while we rejoice in the success of the past we should remember that there remains much to be done. The success of the past should give us clearer visions of the opportunities before us, and produce in us a spirit of deeper consecration, more earnest prayer, and a stronger faith in the Gospel of Christ as the power of God unto salvation. We should not forget the fact that, with these gracious results, there comes to us tremendous responsibilities. These new converts are only babes in Christ. They must be fed and cared for, and to whom can they look for instruction and help but to the Church?

We are glad also to note that there are many homes in which there are family altars, but we believe that there should be in every Methodist home a daily religious service. God alone can tell what we have lost by the neglect of this Christian privilege.

We are not forgetful of the fact that there are strong tendencies to worldliness, and that the ways of vice and wickedness are open on every hand, so the preachers of the gospel of Christ should give no uncertain sound as to the dangers that confront us. We believe that one of the most effective powers to combat and stay the tide of worldliness is the home.

Therefore, be it resolved, That we will go to our several fields of labor and do what we can to encourage and establish family altars in the homes of our people.

W. H. TROY, Chairman.

J

CHURCH EXTENSION.

We have completed thirty-two years of organized Church Extension. The year closing with the session of the General Conference last May was the best in our history, and the last quadrennium was by far the best. Receipts for the past quadrennium exceeded those of the previous quadrennium by $228,051.52 on assessment, $54,317.33 on specials, and $78,602.59 on contributions to the Loan Fund. The outlook for the future usefulness of the Board of Church Extension was never brighter.

The total Loan Fund capital of the General Board is now more than $560,000.00, and the goal has been set at $1,000,000.00. May this goal soon be attained! There are, in addition to this, 42 Conference Loan Funds, with a capital of more than $60,000.00. Our own fund, the Sullins-Price-Richardson Loan Fund, has a capital of $2,776.35. It is our earnest desire to increase this fund as rapidly as possible.

We would again call the attention of presiding elders and pastors to the fact that the General Office provides free literature, and would urge them to take advantage of this opportunity of informing themselves concerning the workings of Church Extension.

Receipts on assessment amount to more than $600.00 in excess of receipts for the previous year.

The assessment levied by the General Board for the ensuing year amounts to $10,260.00. This amount is apportioned to the various districts as follows:

Bluefield	$ 920.00	Big Stone Gap.....	$ 950.00
Tazewell	950.00	Morristown	975.00
Radford	950.00	Knoxville	1,470.00
Wytheville	975.00	Cleveland	625.00
Abingdon	975.00	Chattanooga	1,470.00

Donations and loans have been made to fourteen churches and three parsonages as follows:

Church and Charge	District	Donation	Loan

The board recommends the following assessments: Conference Historian, R. N. Price, $1,200.00; Superannuate endowment fund, $1,000.00; Conference claimants, $14,000.00; Superintendent of the Greeneville Industrial Home and School, $900.00.

With reference to the paper referred to us, recommending that the Joint Board of Finance double the assessment on the Conference for our Conference claimants, we beg to submit that, while in hearty sympathy with any movement set on foot to alleviate the needs of the claimants on this board, we feel that it will be wiser, and perhaps productive of better results, to take a middle course, and have made an increase in assessment of $4,500.00, making our present assessment $14,000.00, instead of $9,500.00, which was the assessment last year; and in view of this conclusion, therefore, be it

Resolved, That, as a Conference, we require the preachers to make exactly the same earnest effort to secure the amounts apportioned to their charges that they use to secure any other benevolent collection ordered by the Annual Conference, and that they do not discriminate against this fund by giving any collection precedence over it, and we earnestly urge all pastors to give the people in the public congregations a chance to contribute to this cause.

C. E. STEELE, Secretary.

The Chaffin Emory Fund of last year, on account of the lateness of the hour at which it was paid, Emory paying off the full amount, we failed to get it in our report, but the amount was appropriated with the rest of our fund. Half of the interest of the Watson fund failed to reach us until after Conference last year, and part of which was our only emergency fund.

BOARD OF MISSIONS.

No. 1 — Evangelism.

The work of the Committee on Evangelism has not been greatly different this year from other years. As in the past, we have sought in every possible way to stress the importance of saving men, and to emphasize the Scriptural means—prayer, the preached Word, dependence upon the Holy Spirit. Through the Presiding Elders and the Secretary of Missions this work was stressed in all the District Institutes. We have strongly urged the reading of Pastoral and Personal Evangelism, by Goodell, Finney's Autobiography, and Wesley's Journal. Quite a number of the preachers have bought and read these books, and in almost every case these men have shown great zeal and usefulness during the year. Many remarkable meetings have been held. The Conference Evangelists have been active and successful, but the larger number of meetings have of necessity been held by the pastors themselves. The results throughout the Conference are indicated below:

	Converted	Accessions to the Church	Net Gain	No. of Meetings Held	Time Spent in Revival Work	Family Altars
Bluefield	1,300	1,096	371	76	178 weeks	more than 226
Radford	1,400	1,006	819	40	80 weeks	230
Tazewell	1,000	426	241	32	56 weeks	79
Wytheville	1,200	644	165	60	98 weeks	166
Big Stone Cap....	1,300	619	309	59	68 weeks	130
Abingdon	1,443	1,083	1,029	42	68 weeks	129
Morristown	1,347	644	221	50	84 weeks	160
Knoxville	2,000	1,189	600	46	96 weeks	200
Chattanooga ...	600	1,117	391	50	88 weeks	150
Harriman	1,200	413	*	60	78 weeks	66
Totals	12,790	8,237	4,105	515	894 weeks	1,536

* Harriman District, decrease of 51.

These results fill our hearts with joy. To God be all the praise! The revival in Holston is not a mere temporary spasm of zeal, but a steady growth in evangelical fervor and New Testament evangelism.

Your committee would strike one single note, that note, Evangelism the one work of the Church. The Church like Martha is sometimes in danger of being cumbered with much serving, whereas but one thing is needful. If with holy singleness of purpose she pursues this, all else will follow. Evangelism, and Pastoral Evangelism especially. Why do we say this? To discriminate against the evangelist, or to disparage his work? Nay, God knoweth. But because there are so many more pastors than evangelists, because the evangelist can never do what the great army of pastors ought to do, and because we would in every possible way combat the idea that there can be any true ministry of Jesus Christ that is not intensely and whole-heartedly evangelistic. Our motto from the beginning has been, "Every pastor an Evangelist."

If we make any great progress in swinging our Methodism back into line as a great evangelistic force, it is our earnest conviction that a new standard of efficiency needs to be set up in the Church. No man should be hailed as a successful preacher who does not succeed in securing the salvation of souls. This is the end of all preaching, and the only indisputable evidence of a Divine call. It should be the business of church editors, bishops, connectional boards and church leaders, generally, to keep this standard in sight, and let all Methodist preachers understand that by it they are going to be measured.

And this standard of efficiency ought to apply to the Church as well as the ministry. There is such a thing as an efficient Church, and if the New Testament is taken as our guide, there can be no doubt as to what constitutes an efficient Church. It must be a church that loves men, and in which souls are saved. Is this unreasonable? Think of a factory running full time, blowing its whistle morning, noon and night, meeting a full pay-roll every week, and yet turning out no products. But think of a great Church, running full time the year round with officers and members and an expense budget running up into thousands of dollars, and yet adding no souls to the Lord's Kingdom. The whole organization of the Church should be with this high end in view, and all other things subordinated to it. The evangelistic motive should enter into all of our work and dominate it. Paul said, "The love of Christ constraineth us." No less motive should lead us in all we do. Securing the collections is a very important thing. We believe in securing the collections, and much larger than we have ever secured, but it should be from genuine love of souls and not to get an honor mark at Conference. It should be in the spirit of Christ and not in the spirit of a contest. It should be love of Christ, and not fear of the bishop or the board. Souls, instead of success, should be the goal.

If this sufficient emphasis is to be placed upon evangelism, administrators and leaders in the Church must consistently and constantly put it forward. It must be clearly seen that winning souls is the highest success possible. It deserves highest commendation, and should have it. No other success should be allowed to excuse or cover up failure here. Annual Conference sessions should be so planned and conducted that the salvation of souls will be kept in the forefront; the salvation of souls should occasion the highest joy there; and every preacher should go away deeply impressed that if he would please the Church, the bishop and his Divine Lord, he must save souls.

Deeply impressed with the necessity for stirring the revival fires in the Church everywhere, we call attention to the recommendations and legislation bearing upon this subject by the last General Conference, and offer the following for adoption as the sense of this Conference.

Resolved, That we as a Conference heartily accept and endorse the recommendations of the General Conference calling us as a Church to a more intense evangelism, and that we urge upon the Department of Home Missions of the General Board of Missions an early announcement of plans for carrying out the will of the General Conference for promoting revival work throughout the Church.

J. A. BAYLOR, Secretary.

No. 2.

After prayerful consideration of the matter we present for your approval the following recommendations:

1. That we conduct an every-member canvass for contributions to all our benevolent causes in every church within our Conference during the week of January 9-15, 1915. Provided that any Church may conduct such a canvass earlier, and we trust that very many will do so, all such joining in during this week by making a supplementary canvass and reporting the results of both in the totals.

2. That each pastor and lay leader report immediately at the close of the week to the Presiding Elder and District Lay Leader for his District, giving the total number of subscribers, and the total amount pledged in each Church. The work will be most successful in that charge which secures subscribers equal in number, or most nearly so, to the membership, and that District will be the banner District which secures the largest number of subscribers or contributors in proportion to the number of members. The Presiding Elders and District Leaders will in turn report to the Conference Missionary Secretary and Conference Leader, who shall publish the results.

3. That a preliminary campaign of preparation be made. The Conference Missionary Secretary shall prepare a special edition of the Conference Organ, giving emphasis to the importance of the work and publicity to the plans and aims. The Secretary and Conference Leader are further requested to prepare a short address to all Charge and Church Leaders, giving some detail of plans to be distributed by the District Leader in each District.

4. That an institute be held in each District in the Conference for Pastors and Lay Leaders, and that the District Lay Leaders are urged to co-operate with the Presiding Elders in making arrangements for these meetings and in securing the attendance of the laymen. If agreeable to the Presiding Elders, we suggest the following dates for these Institutes:

Bluefield, Nov. 16, 17.

Radford, Nov. 23, 24.

Abingdon, Nov. 30, Dec. 1.

Morristown, Dec. 7, 8.

Chattanooga, Dec. 14, 15.

Tazewell, Nov. 19, 29.

Wytheville, Nov. 26, 27.

Big Stone Gap, Dec. 3, 4.

Knoxville, Dec. 10, 11.

Cleveland, Dec. 17, 18.

5. That all our people be urged to consider the advantages of using the duplex envelope, the simplest and most convenient device yet invented to aid our people in making their offerings.

6. That every pastor preach at least one sermon on missions or Christian stewardship before the canvass begins, and that the whole church be urged to pray for the work and workers.

7. That in the District Institutes emphasis be given to the work of Laymen in Evangelism and in Social Service.

8. That at some season during the year, preferably the season closing with Easter, a period be observed as a time of special self-denial and prayer, and that the people be given opportunity to make a self-denial offering to be forwarded as a free will offering from the charge sending it to be used for Home and Conference and Foreign Missions.

9. That in fixing our goal, wherever it is possible we leave the offering of the Sunday School to be a surplus, an offering of love for the King.

J. M. CARTER, Chairman.

P. L. COBB, Secretary.

No. 3.

Another quadrennium closes with this Conference. It has marked the beginning of a new day in our efforts to evangelize the world. A notable advance has been made, the most marked, possibly, in the history of the board. Two facts are conspicuous: First, the work of our Conference Missionary Secretary; second, the enlistment of the laymen, through the lay leaders, in an organized campaign that promises at last to enlist the entire membership of the Church. A new day has dawned with the recent legislation of the General Conference for the Layman's Missionary Movement.

The General Board reports an advance in special contributions and lays emphasis on what our Conference has always urged, the payment in full of all assessments for missions. At this point we want to give credit to the splendid leadership of our presiding elders and their hearty and efficient co-operation in all the efforts of the board. Following this leadership, the preachers and laymen have, in the face of a great financial stringency, increased the total payments to missions nearly four thousand dollars.

Untiring efforts at evangelism, which have placed us among the leading Conferences in our yearly increase of membership, has shown marked results in every department of our Church life. The employment of Ward and York in a former quadrennium followed by the Conference-wide campaign, launched four years ago with our efficient secretary of evangelism, Brother Baylor, aided by our Conference evangelists and the pastor evangelists, has made our Conference known as a leader in the Church-wide revival inaugurated by the Church fathers four years ago, and emphasized at our recent General Conference.

We are grateful to God for the best report made in any year since the Italian Mission was enterprised. Brother Cameron, in co-operation with the Nurse and Deaconess, placed in the coal field by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Conference, has the hearty indorsement of the District Conference in which he labors, and the enthusiastic support of his Presiding Elder. Forty professions of conversion among a foreign people in one year give us great comfort as to the future of the Mission.

During the year we have lost by resignation the services of that untiring promoter of Christian education, Rev. Eugene Blake, who for so many years has wrought successfully as the president of Hiwassee College. In his stead we elected Rev. J. E. Lowry, who reports the largest enrollment in the history of the college.

We call attention here to the simultaneous canvass already presented to the Conference and urge every charge to take advantage of it.

The first Sunday in each month is recommended for Missionary Day in the Sunday School, on which a suitable program should be carried out.

The following apportionments have been made to the districts of the Conference:

	Home and Conf.	Foreign
Radford	$ 2,224	$ 1,750

No. 4 — Holston Board's By-Laws.

1. The Officers of the Conference Board of Missions shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary and Treasurer, to be elected by ballot quadrennially, who shall perform the duties usually attaching to these offices.

2. The Officers of the Board shall constitute the Executive Committee, which shall be charged with the duty of enforcing all rules and regulations of the Board and of acting for the Board in all matters of administration in the interim of the Board meetings. They shall make a full report of their acts to the Board for its approval.

3. A committee on estimates shall be elected by the Board, to whom shall be referred all requests for aid. They shall make a careful estimate of the amounts to be appropriated, of the sum needed by the Board for its work, and of the apportionments to be made of the same, together with the assessments of the General Board of Missions to the several Districts of the Conference, and report to the Board for final action; provided that, the Board may, at its pleasure, consider the estimates in committee of the whole.

4. An auditing committee of three members of the Board of Missions, appointed for the quadrennium, shall employ an expert accountant to examine annually the books and accounts of the Treasurer.

5. The Board shall hold its annual meeting during the session of the Annual Conference, at which all appropriations for aid to pastoral charges shall be made. These appropriations shall not in any year exceed 90 per cent. of the income for the year ended, until the reserve shall reach $8,000, after which the appropriations shall not exceed 95 per cent.

6. A Mid-year Meeting with the Presiding Elders and District Lay Leaders shall be held annually in the month of February, the time and place to be fixed by the Executive Committee, who shall, in co-operation with a Presiding Elder appointed by the Presiding Elders, prepare a program for the meeting. The purpose of this meeting shall be to make any necessary readjustments in the appropriations, provided the amount appropriated at the Annual Meeting is not exceeded; to discuss work, and advise ways and means for making it effective. All new enterprises to be projected and new missions to be established should be presented for consideration at this meeting.

7. The policy of the Board shall be to reduce appropriations to the different missions each year when at all practicable. The Board will continue the policy of making appropriations conditioned on the amount paid for pastor's salary by the charge receiving aid.

8. The Board will not grant appropriations when it is evident, after careful investigation, that an adjustment of the work could be made so as to avoid the necessity for an appropriation.

9. The Board will decline to make appropriations in the absence of satisfactory information, and in order to obtain this information will insist that the blanks furnished by the Board be filled and returned by the Presiding Elder for new missions, and by the Quarterly Conference and Presiding Elder for charges to be continued as missions.

10. All Church treasurers of benevolent funds, whether laymen or pastors, shall remit to the Conference teller the first day of each month all mission funds on hand.

11. Any District, Church, Sunday School, Epworth League or person may assume, in whole or in part, the support of a missionary or mission, established by the Conference Board. Their contributions shall be applied to the support of such objects, provided the funds be sent to the Treasurer of the Board.

12. The Secretary of the Board shall issue drafts for the salaries of the missionaries in its employ, quarterly, payable January 15, April 15, July 15 and on the first day of the session of the Annual Conference; provided, that no draft shall be issued to pay the salary of a missionary until he has sent a report of his work for the quarter, to the secretary, which report is to be made on blanks furnished by the Board.

13. All Conference Evangelists shall report quarterly on blanks to be furnished by the Board.

14. The Treasurer of the Board will pay funds only on drafts signed by the Secretary and endorsed by the payee.

15. Whenever one pastor shall be appointed to serve two charges to which appropriations have been made, the Secretary shall issue to him drafts for the amount appropriated to the charge receiving the larger sum only. Whenever a pastor appointed to a mission charge has already received aid from one of the Conference Boards, the Secretary shall issue no drafts, except for such amount as the appropriation to the mission may exceed the amount he has already received.

16. The Board shall appropriate out of its funds to pay the expenses of the Mid-year Meeting of the Executive Committee and of the officers of the Board in discharge of their duties as officers.

BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

Your committee beg to magnify the function of the press. As of old, God speaks not only through the lips of the prophet or preacher, but through the pen of the writer. Evangelism calls as truly from the press as for the pulpit.

Our publishing house, in its branches at home and abroad, still prospers in every way—sale of books has been unprecedented and progress enjoyed in every way. We give praise to God. We express appreciation of the service done the Church in keeping open the best and safest market for good books, the classics of the past generations of authors, and the best of the new publications. We rejoice in the growing popularity of the books, Holston History. The volumes written grow upon our appreciation, both because of the wonderful story they tell and the happy art with which the story is told. We hope the next volumes will be soon forthcoming.

We rejoice in the efficiency of all the editors of our organs—The Christian Advocate, Midland Methodist, Epworth Era, Missionary Voice, Sunday School Literature and Review. We earnestly request our preachers and people to help our editors by sending proper locals from their charges.

The Midland Methodist, our Conference organ, has a larger circulation now than ever before in the Conference. We commend the editorial work of Rev. T. C. Schuler during the past year, and heartily indorse the election of Dr. J. A. Burrow as editor for the ensuing year. We urge the brethren to redouble their efforts to increase still further the circulation of the Conference organ and place a copy of the paper in every Methodist home in our territory wherever possible.

EPWORTH LEAGUE BOARD.

Our boys and girls today are the leaders of the church tomorrow. Their power and efficiency as leaders will depend upon their early training. The Epworth League was organized to conserve the young life of our churches—to train our boys and girls for strong and efficient leadership. That the purpose of its organization has been abundantly realized there is no longer any doubt. The Epworth League is here to stay. Hosts of strong men and women all over our connection without hesitation attribute their power and usefulness in the church to their early connection with the Epworth League. And yet this great agency for the training of our young life is only partially utilized by our churches. Many of our pastors do not seem to realize the vital usefulness of the organization. While they are absorbed in their concern for the adult membership of their churches, the young people are allowed to drift. It ought to be the foremost concern of every pastor in the Holston Conference to organize Junior and Senior Chapters whenever possible; when no leaders are immediately available, to train leaders; to give close and sympathetic attention to all the operations of these chapters, and to emphasize the development of the League membership along all the four departments, not only devotional, but social, literary and missionary. Especially does the department of missionary work offer to the church her supreme opportunity to make a future membership tremendously valuable to our missionary duty and opportunity. Be it resolved:

First, That our pastors, wherever possible, organize both Junior and Senior Chapters of the Epworth League.

Second, That our pastors give more of their personal attention to the maintenance of all departments of the League Chapters in their charges.

Third, That we commend the General Epworth Board for the excellence of the Epworth Era, and urge our pastors to increase, in every possible way, the circulation among our young people of this valuable monthly.

Fourth, That we recommend to the Committee on Public Worship at future sessions of the Annual Conference that they provide for the anniversary celebration provided for in paragraph 309 of the Discipline: The Conference Epworth League Board shall, in connection with the Conference Committee of Public Worship, arrange for the holding of an anniversary in the interest of its work at each session of the Conference.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

The American Bible Society is in the ninety-eighth year of its existence, and the annual report shows a healthy growth in the translation and distribution of the Bible. The Bible will soon be printed in all the languages of the world. The translation and distribution of the word of God has kept pace with and in many instances has gone before the missionaries, and prepared the soil for the planting of the gospel. Wherever the Bible has been given to individuals or nations it has broken the shackles of slavery and superstition and given liberty and freedom. It is the eternal truth of God, that maketh free.

The American Bible Society is the commissary department that furnishes the supplies for the equipment of our missionaries who are engaged in the conquest of the nations of the world, that they may become kingdoms of our Lord. If our missionaries are to be supplied with the Bible in the languages of the people to whom they are preaching, if agencies are to be established throughout the mission fields of the world, the American Bible Society must keep pace with the rapid increase of the missionary forces at home and abroad.

There is an imperative demand for a constant enlargement of the necessary equipment and agencies for Bible translation and distribution. The gifts of the churches to the Bible Society must keep pace with the ever increasing gifts and assessments made for the increase of our missionary forces. Our last General Conference recommends that an assessment of 2 cents per capita of our entire membership be made for the Bible cause. This would, in our Conference, mean an increase in our assessment from $800.00 to $1,450.00. Owing to the present business depression and uncertainty on account of the war it would be unwise to make such a large increase at one time. Therefore your Board recommends that our assessment for the Bible cause for the coming year be $1,000; that we make this the minimum. And we recommend that every pastor make an effort to raise his contribution to 2 cents per member. We rejoice to find that on an assessment of $800.00, $894.61 has been paid, giving us a surplus of $94.61. The Board decided to appropriate only one-fourth, rather than one-half, as per our report of last year, for use in our own Conference.

The assessment for the American Bible Society is proportioned as follows:

Bluefield District.....	$ 75.00	Big Stone Gap District..	$100.00

MEMOIRS.

WILLIAM C. FARIS.

Fifty-eight years ago, the 13th of this month, there was born into the home of Samuel Faris, near St. Clair, Hawkins County, Tennessee, the subject of this sketch. From boyhood he was intensely religious. "He was born," some one said, "with his face in the right direction, and never stopped going." At an early age he came into a conscious experience of communion with God, through the influence of the country Sunday school which he attended. Soon after this he joined the church. When he was eighteen years of age, under the powerful and soul-searching preaching of Rev. H. P. Waugh, he was deeply convicted. While in this state God unexpectedly to him revealed the fact that he must preach. As he says, "I wanted religion, but God said, 'Be a preacher;' I wanted pardon for my sins, but God said, 'Preach.' The very moment I was willing to preach all was well with my soul."

He was given license as a local preacher July 7, 1877, at St. Clair, Rev. W. R. Barnett being the preacher in charge, and Rev. Grinsfield Taylor conducting the Quarterly Conference in place of Rev. Carroll Long, who could not be present. His first efforts were not, from a sermonic standpoint, notable successes, but his neighbors believed in him, and loved him, and came to hear him preach. Even in those early days he averaged about fifty sermons each year.

In the short sketch of his life which he wrote he gives the following interesting account of one of his first revival efforts: "Our pastor, W. R. Barnett, asked me to preach on Friday night of his meeting. After having been released from study by Prof. Broyles, I spent the afternoon with God in prayer so as to be ready for the night service to be held in the St. Clair Academy. My text was, 'What shall I do to be saved,' and the answer, 'Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.' At the conclusion of the sermon about thirty-three persons came to the altar and were saved in a few moments. This success stimulated my vanity as well as drove me to my knees. Oh, for such soul-winning power now."

He joined the Annual Conference at Morristown, Tennessee, in October, 1880, and served the following charges: Grassy Cove, two years; Hixson, two years; Dunlap, three years; Scarboro, one year; Andersonville, two years; Louisville, three years; Fincastle, three years; Greeneville Circuit, three years; Whiteside Circuit, two years; Trenton, three years; Jasper, one year; Ooltewah, three years, and Hixson, one year. These were, from the standpoint of salary, among the poorest in the Conference, but who shall say from the standpoint of opportunity they were not among the best? We rate our preachers and their work often by artificial standards, but God's standard is far different from ours.

He was somewhat slow in his movements and very deliberate in speech. His power of expression was not equal to the character and movement of his thought. However, there were times when, under Divine influence, he seemed to leap over all these barriers and sweep his congregation with him. His early education was limited, but he overcame this largely by the constant companionship of good books. For his opportunities, I counted him a man well educated and of good general information. His favorite study was astronomy. He told me one night, as we stood under the shining stars, that he knew his way among the constellations as well as he knew the country about his boyhood home, and demonstrated his statement by pointing out numerous stars, giving their names and the groups to which they belonged.

As a Christian he belonged to that pure, ethical and deeply spiritual type which impresses and influences men by kindness and love. In the Highland Park Church, which he attended with his family, his name was like ointment poured forth. His loss was felt as a sore bereavement.

The final test of a man's power for good is measured by his impress on his own family. Judged by this standard, Bro. Faris was a success. With his faithful, loyal and consecrated wife, Hattie, the daughter of a Methodist preacher, Rev. Wm. R. Rush, of Grassy Cove, Tenn., he reared a family of five children: two daughters—Bell and Mrs. Mamie Neighbors; and three sons—Fred, Robert and Dean, of splendid character, devoted to God and the Church. How they gave the daughters a collegiate education, put the oldest boy in the University, kept the younger ones in high school and paid for a comfortable home is beyond the ken of any but the good God who filled the widow's barrel with meal, and who still lives and reigns in the world.

When the time came for his superannuation it was a trying ordeal. But he adjusted himself to the changed conditions, taking advantage of every opportunity to preach and to witness for his Lord. For two years before his death he went regularly every Sunday afternoon to the county work house at Orchard Knob, preaching to the negro men in chains, many of whom, under his loving ministry, were released from the captivity of the great enemy of our souls. Could any ministry be more acceptable than this to our Lord, whose claim as the One to come was based on the fact that the poor had the gospel preached unto them?

The end came December 19, 1913, so suddenly that few of us were aware of the serious and insidiously fatal malady that years before had laid hold on him. His testimony was clear and ringing, with no uncertain sound. We laid him to rest in Forest Hills to wait the coming of his Lord.

P. L. COBB.

JOHN H. BRUNNER.

John Hamilton Brunner, son of Joseph and Elizabeth Brunner, of Greene County, Tenn., was born March 12, 1825. December 10, 1850, he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Key, of Monroe County, Tennessee, Rev. Jesse Cunningham officiating. He died of heart failure at his home near Hiwassee College February 18, 1914, aged eighty-eight years, eleven months and six days, his wife having preceded him one year and fifteen days, at the ripe age of eighty-seven years. The children numbered seven, all of whom are dead save Mr. A. T. Brunner, of Hiwassee College, Mrs. Ralph Hunt, of Philadelphia, Miss., and Mrs. R. C. Humphreys, of Whiting, Ind.

Dr. Brunner was president of Hiwassee College about thirty-three years, though not continuously. He devoted the greater part of his life, energies and means to helping indigent young men secure an education. His mind and faculties were clear and bright to the end of his life. He told his son, Mr. A. T. Brunner, the night before he died, that the end was near, but that he was ready and willing to go, that he had no fear and longed to be with his loved ones who had gone on before.

Dr. G. C. Rankin said of him, in the Texas Christian Advocate: "The life of such a man is worthy of more than a passing notice. He came upon the stage of action in the years when Methodism was comparatively young in the hill country and no man contributed more to its success and progress than he. When this writer was an infant, Dr. Brunner traveled our circuit in East Tennessee, and one of his regular preaching appointments was in our grandmother's house. Church buildings were scarce in those days. He and the writer's father were warm and cordial friends, though the latter has been dead fifty-two years.

"Dr. Brunner was a preacher of the old school, rather terse and sententious in style, but lucid and comprehensive. He was a learned man, well read in all sorts of literature and history, and a teacher of renowned ability. Nearly fifty years ago he identified himself with Hiwassee College and here is where he did his most important work. He made it his business to see to it that no aspiring and worthy boy was ever turned down in his effort to obtain an education. Forty years ago, poor and without influential friends, this writer applied to him for entrance into that well-known school. He gave us his warmest welcome and at no time did he ever suggest to us the financial part of it. We sat at his feet until we had finished his course and then entered the Holston Conference. His love and confidence have followed us like that of a father from that day till his translation. Our love for him was like that of a son for a father. He stands out in memory today as the most valued counselor and friend we have ever had outside of the home circle.

"Throughout the extent of our country there are those in all the honorable walks of life to rise up and call him blessed. The last time we had the pleasure of visiting him he said to us, 'My chief pleasure is found in my communion with the Master and calling to mind the hundreds of my boys through whom I am still living and working in the varied pursuits of life. When my earthly pilgrimage closes I will still be active in the lives they are living. Among them all you stand very close to my heart.' What a blessing that we ever fell under his molding influence! Throughout all these years of toil and struggle his short, fatherly letters have come to us with the regularity of the weeks.

"He lived and wrought to great advantage. He had an iron constitution, a large, well-developed physical frame, tremendous head and a most benign face. To look at him was to see a man born to do great things. He would have been noticed in a gathering of thousands. He had a transparent heart, and a countenance frank and open. He was a judge of human nature. He knew how to size up character at a glance. When a boy once found his way into Dr. Brunner's heart he was fixed, but woe betide the fellow who took advantage of his confidence and deceived the trust placed in him. He knew how to love and how to confide. He knew how to punish with his keen displeasure when punishment was deserved. He made himself one with his students. There was no chasm between him and them; yet no boy ever became so familiar with him as to lose respect for his authority. Had he been ambitious he might have shone in the wide circles of the Church. He had the brain and the training. But he was content to select a smaller sphere and devote his life to helping those who needed his tuition and accomplishment. Hence, amid the scenes of old Hiwassee, embowered amid its Arcadian groves and undulating hills, he lived and wrought and died. From there his influence has gone out almost without limit, and a score of the States of this Union are the beneficiaries of his self-sacrificing toil and devoted labor. May the clouds rest lightly o'er his dust and may the flowers bloom perennially around his tomb! Father in Israel, adieu!"

CHARLES K. MILLER.

Charles K. Miller was born on Walker's Creek, in Bland County, Virginia, September 7, 1832, and died at his home in Rural Retreat, Va., December 31, 1913, aged eighty-one years. He was the son of Charles and Mary McNeil Miller, of Bland County, Virginia, and is survived by one brother, Alexander Miller, of Mechanicsburg, Va. There are three brothers and one sister deceased. He was happily married to Miss Amanda Young, of Grayson County, Virginia, on May 5, 1865. Six children came to bless this union, four of whom, together with the sorrowing wife, survive him.

When a boy of fifteen Brother Miller was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Hoge's Camp Ground, in Bland County, Virginia. He was licensed to preach by the Quarterly Conference of the Mechanicsburg Circuit, at Newberry's Chapel, on Dec. 5, 1857, his license being signed by E. C. Wexler, Presiding Elder, and G. W. K. Green, Secretary. He was received on trial into the traveling connection at Asheville, N. C., October 17, 1860, and was ordained Deacon at Athens, Tenn., October 17, 1862, by Bishop Early, and by him was ordained Elder at Marion, Va., September 14, 1865. He served faithfully and well the following charges: Wytheville Circuit, Virginia, as junior preacher; Independence Circuit, in Grayson County, Virginia; Lebanon, Russell County, Virginia; Jefferson Circuit, North Carolina; Morristown and Jacksboro, in Tennessee; Elk Creek, Va.; Rural Retreat, Va. The Rural Retreat Circuit was his last charge. In the fall of 1884 he was superannuated on account of ill health, which relation he held until death.

Brother Miller was a strong and forceful, yet logical, preacher, and his messages were simple and plain. He believed in the power of the Gospel, which he preached to save men from sin. He possessed a passion for souls. Few men of his time in active ministry saw more people converted and received into the Church. He was once heard to say to J. T. Guy, his pastor, that there were more than five hundred professions of conversions during his pastorate of two years on the Lebanon Circuit. He did not court the plaudits of the world. His highest delight was to know what was the will of God, and then endeavor to do it at any cost. He loved God and God's ministry and people. The fires of the true itinerant continued to burn in his soul during the long years of his superannuation. He took a deep interest in all the affairs of the Church. He never became sour or morose, but maintained a cheerful and patient spirit. No bitter speech, no unkind word, was heard to fall from his lips. He grew old nobly.

As a father and husband he was kind and considerate; an honored and beloved citizen, whose counsel was respected by all. And withal he was truly a man of God. His faith grew stronger and his prospect brighter as he approached the end of life's journey.

He loved to talk of heaven, and seemed to anticipate an abundant entrance into the everlasting kingdom of his heavenly Father. No one doubts that he was ready. His pure, devout and noble spirit is gone up to join the hosts of the Church triumphant; and that is not death, that is victory—victory over death and over the grave.

It is a blessed promotion. A glorious transition from the companionship of physical weakness and pain and sorrow of earth, to the fellowships of heaven.

"Forever with the Lord,
Amen, so let it be;
Life from the dead is in the Word,
'Tis immortality."

May the God of All Grace comfort and bless with His gracious presence the faithful companion of his life in the loneliness of her widowhood, and the children in this their great loss.

MRS. JOHN WESLEY SMITH.

Lucy Jordan, daughter of Crockett I. and Ellen Miller Jordan, of Pulaski County, Virginia, was born April 29, 1853, and died at the home of her son, in Chicago, December 14, 1913. She was married to Rev. J. Wesley Smith on October 2, 1883, and to them was born one son, Paul J. Smith, now a preacher of Chicago. She was converted at old Thorn Spring Church, Pulaski County, Virginia; joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in early youth, and ever afterwards she was a devout and active Christian worker. Her ideal of the Christian life was drawn from the Word of God, and the practice of her life was in keeping with that ideal. She was educated, refined, unassuming, and, best of all, deeply pious, which adorned her life in all its relations.

It was my fortune to have been her pastor seven years, and I must say that she was universally beloved because of the splendid traits of character that won all who knew her. She was always bright and cheerful, true and faithful, lifting the burdens from many a troubled heart as she went by. In God she trusted and took great delight in associating with His people. Being gifted with a melodious voice, she consecrated it to the service of her Lord in singing the songs of Zion, to the joy of many a soul. With a noble and self-sacrificing spirit, her life was filled with words and deeds of helpfulness to others. In the Church and its societies, where she was an active and earnest worker, her presence and holy influence will be sadly missed. In the wide circle of relatives and friends, who knew her only to love her, her departure is greatly mourned. To her own household as an affectionate, faithful and devoted wife, and as a devoted and loving mother, her death came as an almost unbearable sorrow.

The last two years of her life were spent in Chicago with her husband, keeping house for her preacher son. There, upon Thursday evening, returning from holding a bazaar to raise funds for a church, pneumonia began its fearful work, and the following Sunday at 1 p. m. her sweet spirit went home to God. "Absent from the body, present with the Lord." A light has gone out that gave joy and happiness here in the home and in the Church. Let the bereaved find comfort in the fact that she has heard the welcome, "Well done, good and faithful servant," and entered the house of many mansions.

Services were conducted both in Chicago and Chattanooga. Dr. Foster, Dean of the University of Chicago, and Dr. Aikin, of the Methodist Church in Chicago, held services in Chicago; Rev. J. A. Burrow, Rev. James W. Moore, and all the Southern Methodist pastors of Chattanooga, took part in the service in Chattanooga. Her body sleeps in Forest Hills, under the shadow of Lookout Mountain.

WM. H. PRICE.

MRS. LEE M. BURRIS.

Nellie Jordon Callahan, daughter of Rev. George A. and Mrs. Mollie E. Callahan, was born at Dublin, Pulaski County, Virginia, August 5, 1892, and departed this life at Coal Creek, Tenn., October 17, 1913, being only a little over 21 years old. She was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, under the ministry of Brother Burris, October 7, 1906, at the tender age of 14 years. When a child her father moved from the place of her nativity to Wythe County, Virginia, where she grew to womanhood and where she acquired a good common school education. But school did not complete her development. She thought fully and carefully, read good books, good literature in general, especially the Bible. Her intellectual development was very marked, if not marvelous. In fact, she grew rapidly in all the graces of Christian womanhood.

As a child she was sweet-spirited and kind, having a smile and kind word for all with whom she came in contact. This spirit, sweetened by the presence of the Holy Spirit, made her a faithful and devoted wife and mother, and a zealous worker for the oncoming of the kingdom of God. She was happily married to Rev. Lee M. Burris, of the Holston Conference, by Rev. W. M. Morrell, October 19, 1907. To this couple were born two children, one boy and one girl. The little boy preceded the mother to the better country. The little girl remains to cheer the lonely life of the husband and father.

Sister Burris was a woman of charming personality, with a high degree of intellectual and spiritual development, who presided like a queen in her home and gave herself without reserve to all of the difficult and delicate tasks imposed on her as the wife of an itinerant Methodist preacher. Though the charges which Brother Burris served demanded almost niggardly economy, she did not complain, but gladly bore all, and gave herself to further the work of her husband and her divine Lord. All who knew her loved her. In those charges served by her husband she numbered her friends by the score. How well the writer of these lines remembers sharing the hospitality of their parsonage home! How sweetly and simply it was dispensed by her hand! But that gentle spirit went away, when she was just ready to take charge of the little parsonage of the Bristol Circuit at Wallace, Va. What a void her departure made in the work of the circuit, and especially in the heart of her husband!

Her body was tenderly brought back to the home of her childhood, in Wythe County, Virginia, where, after appropriate services, conducted by Dr. M. P. Carico, it was laid to rest to await the resurrection of the just. May God in his mercy comfort the husband and tenderly care for the little orphan.

GEORGE D. FRENCH.

MRS. S. L. BROWNING.

Mattie J. Hancher was born in Washington County, Tennessee, December 22, 1881, and departed this life from the parsonage at Madisonville, of which charge her husband was pastor, August 14, 1914, after an illness of many weeks. She was the daughter of W. A. and Emma Hancher, and a granddaughter of Rev. James A. Hancher, of the English Lutheran Church.

She was married to Rev. Samuel L. Browning October 7, 1900. To this happy union five children were born—Helen, Charles, Ethel, Margaret and Stephen, all of whom survive, and all of tender age, the eldest twelve years and the youngest three months old at the time of the mother's death.

Sister Browning was a devoted Christian from her childhood. When nine years of age she attended revival services in a United Brethren Church near her home and, yielding her heart to her Savior, was happily converted. She immediately united with the Lutheran Church and remained a consistent member of the same until after her marriage, when she became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. She was a woman who possessed, to a rare degree, those old-time, tried virtues of wifehood and motherhood, which have entered into and helped to fashion all that is noble and beautiful in the Christian home. To her husband she was a helpmeet indeed. Often by her loving counsel and encouragement did she open up a clear way that led out from perplexity and doubt. To her children she was a firm, yet tender and devoted, mother. Hers was a well ordered home. There was law, but the law was love. She considered her children an heritage of the Lord, and to bring them up in His nurture and admonition was her constant endeavor. She was a woman of prayer and taught her children to pray. In the absence of the husband and father she regularly conducted family worship.

With her hands thus full of the holy calling of motherhood, although not in robust health, she was nevertheless devoted to the church, manifesting a keen interest in its welfare. She taught a class in the Sunday school, and was a worker in the Woman's Missionary Society, never failing to be present when her strength permitted. She fitted well into the place of an itinerant preacher's wife. By the simplicity of her life and her devotion to the church she endeared herself to the hearts of God's people. Without ostentation, possessed of a quiet and peaceable spirit, of equable temper, self-controlled and patient, she won and kept the confidence and esteem of all who knew her. She appreciated her parsonage home, and enjoyed the life of a Methodist preacher's wife. Speaking of this she often said, "I am so thankful that the Lord gave me such a place in life."

On a cloudless Sabbath morning, August 16, her funeral was conducted by her Presiding Elder, assisted by Rev. J. M. Knight, of the United Brethren Church, a childhood companion and friend of both Brother and Sister Browning, in the M. E. Church, South, at Madisonville, Tenn. Every church in the charge was represented in a vast concourse of sympathetic friends, many of whom could not find even standing room in the church. Her body was laid to rest in the Madisonville Cemetery, there to await the "general resurrection in the last day, and the life of the world to come, through our Lord Jesus Christ."

T. J. ESKRIDGE.

ELIZABETH JANE SMITH.

Elizabeth Jane Smith, daughter of Peter and Letitia Kelly Morrison, was born near Kingsport, Tenn., February 24, 1834. At the age of ten years, at a camp meeting conducted at Brush Creek Camp Ground by Revs. Nat Taylor, William G. Brownlow and her uncle, Samuel Patton, she definitely sought and found the more abundant life in Christ. This supreme fact of her earthly experience she never doubted. Her life, redeemed from the power and dominion of sin, became, in Christ, a redemptive force, and many of her associates were, through the beauty, strength and exemplary character of that life, won to the life that is in Him.

On November 4, 1857, she was married to Rev. James T. Smith, of the Holston Conference, and for thirty years she shared with him the varying experiences of the life itinerant. Three children were born to brighten and bless their home, all of whom reached maturity. Only one of that number now remains on this side of the river—Sister Hunter, wife of Rev. A. B. Hunter, of our Conference.

Sister Smith knew most of the older preachers of the Conference, now living, and especially enjoyed having read the "History of Holston Methodism," having known, personally, many of those whose experiences and achievements are therein recounted. The writer, while not intimately acquainted with the subject of this sketch, desires to record his appreciation of a life lived faithfully, unassumingly and well.

It seemed, even to a casual acquaintance, that in her face there slept the warmth and brightness of balmy skies. There was pictured there the calmness of an unshaken faith in God and in the promised life of heaven. The illusions and tragedies of an experience running through more than four-score years disturbed not the even tenor of that life; and when, on July 21, 1914, near set of sun, in the station parsonage at Graham, Va., surrounded by those whom, in life, she had loved best, the final summons came, she met it without a struggle or a fear, and the gentle spirit of this mother in Israel, "leaving its outgrown shell by Life's unresting sea," began to live the life triumphant.

JAMES E. SPRING.

MRS. WILLIAM ROBESON.

Adaline Patton was born February 8, 1832, at the home of her father, Vincent Easley, in Sullivan County, Tennessee, and died at her home near Morristown, Tenn., November 11, 1913, at the ripe age of eighty-one years, nine months and three days. She was of a historical Methodist family. Her paternal great-grandfather was Stephen Easley, of English blood, who, in the year 1782, came from Halifax County, Virginia, and entered land on Horse Creek at its junction with Holston River. This home was one of Bishop Asbury's favorite stopping places in his annual missionary rounds, and one of the strongholds of early Methodism. Mrs. Robeson's maternal great-grandparents were Timothy Acuff and Anna Leigh, who were early settlers of Sullivan County. Mr. Acuff entered land in that county in 1773. He also was a friend of Asbury, and often entertained him. He gave from his farm the land upon which was erected Acuff's Chapel, the first Methodist meeting house in Tennessee.

Vincent Easley was a Methodist, as were his forefathers. He was a leading citizen of his section, and a man of unusual intelligence and information. Even at that early day he had an excellent library, and, although a newspaper was a rarity in his time and section, files of his old newspapers are still kept by his descendants, among which is the Washington City "National Intelligencer" covering the period of the Mexican War. His daughter, Mrs. Robeson, inherited his breadth of mind. Her education received due attention, and she is said to have attained a remarkable proficiency in her studies, especially in mathematics. As a young lady she was much beloved and admired. On January 21, 1851, at her father's residence, she was married to the Rev. William Robeson, of the Holston Conference, whose successful itinerant career on stations, circuits and districts extended from 1844 to his superannuation in 1874. To this union were born eight children. The surviving children are Mrs. Felicia Robeson Weaver, of Arizona, and Hon. W. A. Robeson and Prof. J. M. Robeson, of Morristown, Tenn.

Mrs. Robeson was left in the weeds of widowhood May 29, 1905, after which she removed from her home at Highland Mills, near Blountville, Tenn., to her home near Morristown, Tenn. Of her it may truthfully be said that she had the mind of a philosopher, combined with the modesty, gentleness and tenderness of the true woman. In deliberation she was able to place a just estimate on the arguments on both sides of a question, giving to each its due weight. This ability, coupled with her absolute integrity, made her a just and impartial judge as she solved the problems which so often came before her in her long life of care and service. Her love was generous. She gave herself in love; and the gift was not belittled by the thought of recompense. How glad and spontaneous was her love of little children! How profound was her love for the great and the good of earth! Many sought her counsel and her sympathy, and she did not disappoint them. She loved with all her heart the good and the pure. She passionately loved Christianity and her Church and she loved God supremely. Her home life in the relations of mother and wife gave the highest expression of her true greatness. Her efficiency was of a high order. Cheerfulness, industry, watchfulness, faithfulness and uniform kindness marked her daily life. She knew the "soft answer," but she never gave the answer of fear or of improper compromise.

Mrs. Robeson joined the Methodist Church at Horse Creek Camp Ground, having been baptized in her infancy by Rev. Thomas Wilkerson. She was rich in the Christian virtues of patience and loving kindness; but her faith, transcendent among her Christian graces, covered all things whatsoever and answered for her every question of time or eternity. To say "Thy will be done" is the highest triumph of Christian faith. Those close to her have heard her say it, but far better, they have seen her when with all the power of her soul she was showing her complete and glad submission to God's will and therefore her exalted faith.

Her last years were years of affliction, but she was uniformly uncomplaining and indeed cheerful. Hers was the death of the righteous, and she went in peace to her incorruptible reward. One who was with her at the last wrote of her: "Her going away was a stately departure." She had truly dignified and ennobled every state or condition of life into which she had ever come; she dignified and ennobled death. There were no formal farewells, but there were brief words of love and appreciation for those about her. Then, while yet with us, she entered with One who was nearer to her than any other into a communion whose blessedness we can not know; but we heard the low words of her victory and assurance: "Tho' I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me."

CARE OF CONFERENCE FUNDS.

Chattanooga, Tennessee, November 4, 1914.

To the Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, consisting of Messrs. F. A. Carter, J. A. Burrow, G. L. Hardwick, R. P. Purse and W. G. M. Thomas, appointed by the Holston Annual Conference of said Church, at its recent session of 1914:

Gentlemen:

To you, and through you, to the Holston Conference of your Church, and the interested Trustees and Boards, we beg to propose the following, which we believe you will find to cover and include, in a formal manner, the offer which we informally laid before you at your meeting today:

If you shall see proper to select and appoint our Bank the depository and General Treasurer of the benevolent and trust funds of the various boards of the Holston Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, we will accept the trust, and perform it in full accordance with the letter and spirit of the document which is attached hereto, marked exhibit "A," and made a part hereof.

Other terms of this proposal are:

1. That we shall receive no compensation.
2. That we are to be repaid the expense incurred for necessary stamps, stationery and printing used in administering the trust and office.
3. That, during the 1915 session of the Annual Conference we will furnish free of charge a competent employee, or employees, who will go to the Annual Conference and remain there through the session—we to be repaid the cost of the railway fare and hotel bills.
4. That on all funds in regular Savings Account we will pay four per cent. (4%) interest per annum compounded semi-annually; and on Certificates of Deposit issued for either six (6) months or twelve (12) months, four per cent (4%) interest to be paid.
5. That, on checking account, we will pay three per cent. (3%) interest per annum on minimum monthly balances, to be credited monthly; it being our intention on the first day of each month to transfer, so far as possible, the amounts on hand to the Savings Account, keeping on hand in the checking account merely enough to cover the current payments of that month.
6. That in addition to the regular interest, any profit to us, arising from a charge, a fee, a commission, or otherwise, on any investment or loan of the funds made by us, such profit shall belong, and go to the Board whose funds were invested or loaned. All such profits we agree to donate for the benefit of the Church, save only that, from the same, we will be repaid any actual expenses incurred by us growing out of making and caring for the loan or investment.

7. That, without any expense to you, the Conference, or the interested Trustees or Boards, we are to keep all necessary books, records, etc., and carry on such correspondence, make such reports, and do all such other things as shall comply fully with said exhibit "A" hereto.
8. That there shall be no charge made by our Bank for collection of checks coming in from other Counties or States.
9. That, this contract shall remain in force until the closing of the 1915 Session of the Holston Annual Conference of your Church, and until after the year's accounts shall have been closed, and the statistical reports prepared and furnished as per exhibit "A."
10. That your Commission shall be the guiding, advisory, and controlling authority with respect to the formality and the administration by us of this office and trust, unless otherwise instructed by the constituted authorities of the Church.

Your acceptance of this proposal shall constitute a contract between us; and this communication, and your acceptance will be executed in duplicate.

Respectfully submitted,
CHATTANOOGA SAVINGS BANK,
By W. A. Sadd, President.

Attest:
R. W. Barr, Cashier.

To the Chattanooga Savings Bank,
Chattanooga, Tenn.

Gentlemen:

By virtue of the authority vested in us by resolution of the Holston Annual Conference, we hereby accept your above proposition; and you are selected and appointed the depository and General Treasurer accordingly.

We wish to thank you for your proposal, which we consider fair to our Church, and liberal and generous on your part; and we trust your business relations with the Conference, its Boards, ministers and laymen, may be pleasant and satisfactory to all concerned.

This November 4, 1914.

Very respectfully yours,
F. A. CARTER.
G. L. HARDWICK.
W. G. M. THOMAS.
J. A. BURROW.
R P. PURSE.
